THE DAWN OF A NEW BEGINNING . . .

A New Beginning

Prisms of light slowly filter into the quiet darkness just before the final burst of brightness. The new day comes as a miracle — the dawn of a new beginning.

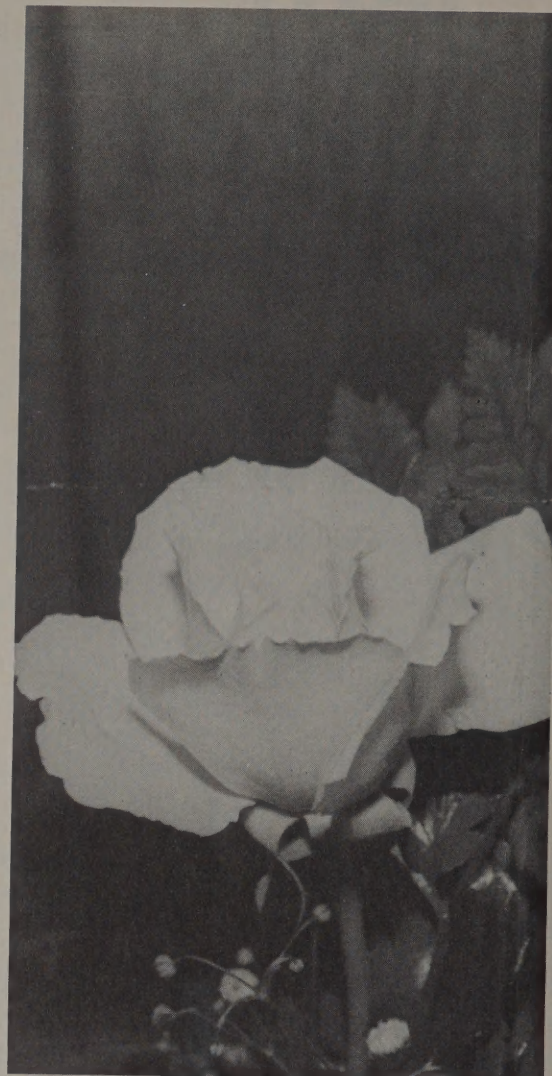

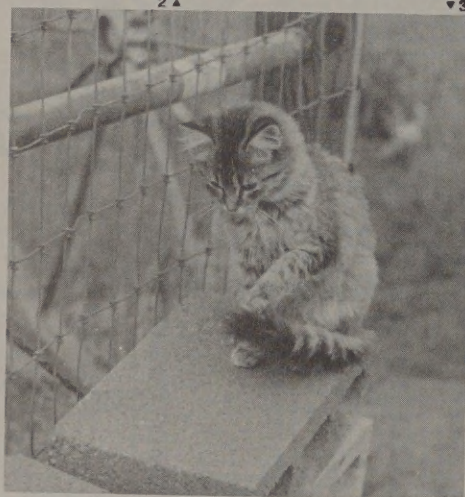

But beginnings come in many forms. The birth of a kitten, a rose budding — these are also new beginnings.

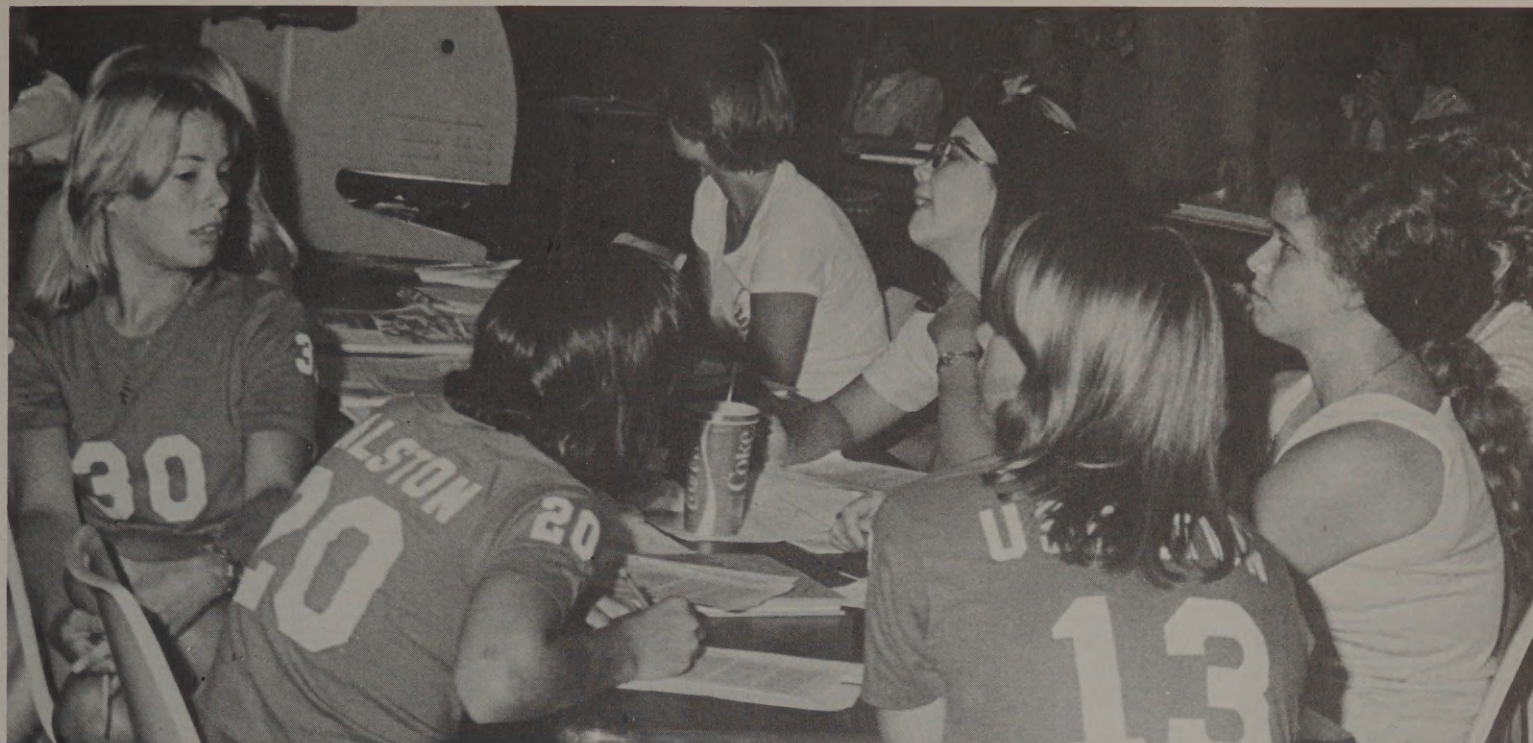

For most students, the Labor Day weekend presents both an ending of the fun of lazy summer days and the opportunity of a fresh start — a new school year! But for approximately 45% of the students in High School, the summer ended long before this deadline. These young people sacrificed time, effort, and energy in preparation for the coming year, hoping in some way they could make it better than ever before.

Included in this group is the Annual Staff. Through extended efforts such as trips to Annual Camp at Abilene, rushes to meet deadlines, working on weekends, plus lots of hard work and worry, we have completed this annual, hoping all the while it will be the best ever. We feel that every second of work was well worth it. We hope you agree.

School actually began on September 5, 1978 for most students. But for some dedicated young people, the work began before then. Bonfire Starts Homecoming

Homecoming '78 was a mixture of a lot of feelings. For the Seniors there was a feeling of relief, sadness, excitement and anticipation of the weekend. With the final step of the Bon Fire — the Captains lighting the mass of timber — the weekend was on its way. Nominees were announced, escorts were chosen, and mums were ordered. Finally, October 27 arrived. Being faced with a tough Hubbard team, the Lions were to come out victorious as usual. But at halftime the spotlight was on Paula Johnson as she and her court were honored. Runners up Karen Morgan, Karen Melton, and Laurie Saunders were all happy and proud for Paula because of the strong bond of friendship between the girls. As a symbol of this feeling, Paula presented each girl with a rose from her bouquet following the ceremony.

1. Varsity cheerleaders boost spirit at the bonfire on Thursday of Homecoming week.

2. We were entertained by the visiting Hubbard Jagualettes at the Homecoming Pep Rally.

3. As the Band plays the school song, the student body shows their spirit by singing and demonstrating the rank of our football team.

4. Prior to the pep rally, the football team received balloons bearing their number. They had a secret message inside.

5. The twirlers entertained the student body with a routine to "Play That Funky Music"

1. As the band plays the school song, the mighty Lions enter the gym for the pep rally.

2. Wow! Along with her crown, charm, and roses, Paula was presented a kiss from escort Randy Melton.

3. Excited spirited cheerleaders begin a chant at the bonfire.

4. Homecoming Queen Paula Johnson, and her escort leave the field.

Halftime Is Spotlighthed

Halftime begins as the crowd's attention is captured by the whistles and loud commands from Drum Majorette Debra Mathison.

Twirlers Karen Melton, Melanie Russell, and Rhetta Gillen lead 55 bright blue uniforms and a sea of white hats topped by tall white feathers onto the brown and green field. A kaleidoscope image is created with such marching procedures as step 2's, counter marches, and column turns.

Managing to march and play at the same time looks easy from the stands. In reality they require many hours of practice, beginning in August before school starts and continuing during band period and after school on Tuesday afternoons.

The practicing does not end with the football season. Band activities include performing in concerts, the Coronation, at least one PTA meeting, State Fair and area parades, and UIL band contests all under the direction of Grady Barnes.

Spirits Run High

With stomachs quivering and hearts beating rapidly, fifteen or twenty cheerleader hopefuls are biting their nails and awaiting the final decision of the judges.

It's May again, and another climactic day for eight lucky people. After several weeks of nervously preparing for cheerleader tryouts, Mrs. Hodges finally announces the judges' decision. The winners are ecstatic but they also know what is ahead of them — a year full of hard work. Cheerleader camp, new uniforms, pulled muscles, paint fights, toetouch jumps, skits, pep rallies, practices, patience, leadership and "what do you say big team, let's fight, fight, fight" are only a few of the aches, pains, and honors of a year as cheerleader. And suddenly 2400 yards of tape, eight gallons of paint, and a quarter of a mile of paper, became twenty runthrough signs that helped boost the mighty Lions to victory.

Memories gather until the climax — the athletic banquet the following May. This becomes an exciting last effort of the group from one year ago — the 1978-79 High School Cheerleaders!

FHA Leads The Way

"An apple a day keeps the drudgery away" was the motto of the FHA, as they presented apples to the teachers on their first day at school. Selling danny duzits, collecting stamps and eye glasses, giving a brunch for the teachers, visiting rest homes, and collecting Christmas toys for needy children are important yearly projects. The FHA encourages members to improve themselves through the three encounter levels: Knowing Myself in FHA, Community and Family Involvement, and Preparing for Adulthood. These projects help carry out the FHA theme, "LIVING IS LOVING."

FFA Plows Into Action

Building their way to a better tomorrow, FFA members provided much needed improvements to the campus when they built a concrete sidewalk around the premises. Throughout the years, FFA has made a point of having as many agricultural opportunities as possible open to its members. These include: building gates and hay equipment for area farmers, assisting band parents in running concession stands, attending tractor pulls and FFA banquets, and participating in livestock shows.

As the importance of agriculture increases with a diminishing food supply and increasing world population, the organization reflects the need for improvements in this field by adding projects and course offerings yearly.

Royalty Selected For Classes

The answer to the after Christmas let down has been found. It is called the Coronation, but the name in no way implies the event. For several weeks before the actual performance, the majority of the student body is a-buzz with activities in one of the three areas of the program: the court, the entertainment, and the awards. Each area causes its own type of excitement which means that the night contains something for everyone and is therefore destined for success.

Seniors Begin A Long Journey

Each year a new group of Seniors end one phase of life and begin a long journey into the future. All through school these students have been together, but graduation starts each individual toward different goals. These goals are concerned with future jobs, college entrance exams, and thoughts of marriage.

The Seniors elected Lester Bailey-Pres., Paula Johnson-V. Pres., Mike Nelson-Sec. Tres., Ricky McGraw-Reporter, Karen Melton-Stud. Council Rep.

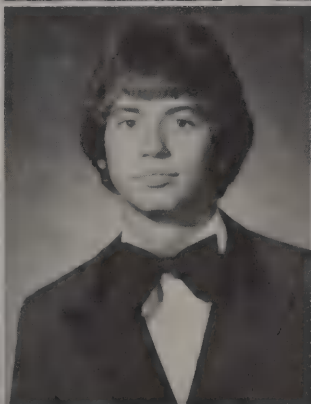

Being elected class favorites will be a long treasured honor for Ricky McGraw and Nina Barham.

School Daze Brings Smiles

Children in today's elementary schools are learning how to deal effectively with real problems. The purpose of the Coronation is to provide each child with learning situations consisting of memory work, public speaking, and self-discipline.

A series of skits carried out the theme "School Daze" in which Teresa Thornton and Scott Taylor were crowned Queen and King of Elementary School.

The court: K, Chris Tina Halfs and Chad Hall; 1a, Leah Gorden and John Paul Gillen; 1b, Christie Hippard and Micah Haden; 2a, Amy Johnston and Matt Hodges; 2b, Buffy Mahone and John Howard; 3a, Tammy Cobb and David Hill; 3b, Lori Boldin and Richard Sagebiel; 4th, Lori Gorden and David Bowling; 5th, Jannessa Dover and Michael Smith. Queen and King Nominees: Teresa Thornton and Scott Taylor; Audra Thornton and Darrell Cobb; Mona Ralston and Sammy Bass. Court Attendants: Jennifer and Jason Sagebiel.

Summer Workouts Lead To Victories

Hot days and hard, tough, long workouts faced the Lions as they began the 78 - 79 season August 14. From this date to August 25 — the first game — weaknesses were spotted and improved by constant drilling so that both offense and defense were a smooth unit when they tied Kennedale 0 - 0, and defeated Buffalo 2 - 0 in scrimmage games.

Scores Bring Roars

The Lions captured district with a winning, but not perfect, record. Victory over Glen Rose 26 - 19, Hubbard 36 - 12, and Itasca 48 - 0 was off set by a 20 - 26 loss to Whitney. For that, the Lions were faced with a must win situation against Grandview. The outcome was a 12 - A District Championship and an advancement to the Bi-District game with fifth ranked, China Spring. Head Coach Kyle Coker said after the loss of 35 - 0 to China Spring, "I was proud of the team. They had a good season and even though they were defeated, in my eyes, they're still No. 1!"

Volleyball History Is Made

Volleyball came into the light at Blooming Grove with a first District 12-A Championship victory over Whitney and Glen Rose in a double elimination tournament. The team advanced to Bi-District defeating 11-A District Champs Hamilton. They continued their statebound journey and traveled to Denton for the Regional Volleyball Tournament where the Lions stopped with a second place win.

Varsity Girls Take District

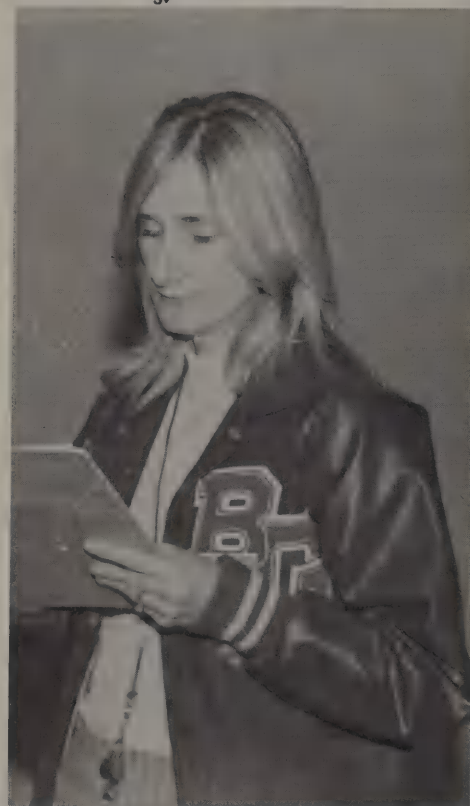

Melba Manley's Varsity Lionettes Basketball team faced two challenges last October: a new style of competition, full court, and an eighteen year record of failing to win the district title. The challenges were met. After many hours of extra practices, the team captured the District 12-A Championship. Prior to playing for Bi-District their record was 15-6.

Jr. High Gain Experience

The Jr. High football team fought, struggled, and tried though they did not come out on top. Even with a somewhat discouraging season the team always regained determination and the will to win. The most important aspect of every sport is not how many games are won but the team effort put forth in playing them.

Junior High Shoot For Improvement

Sportsmanship and spirit could always be seen from the stands even though the boys had many losses; but under the coaching of Tommy Stephenson, they went on to fight, which made every game worthwhile.

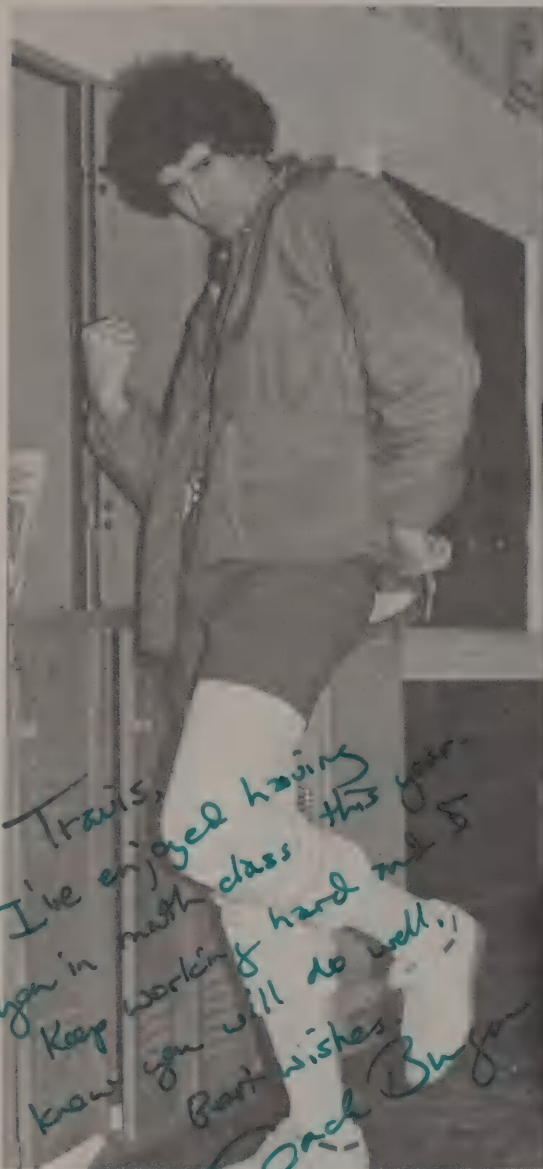

The 78-79 Girl's team had high hopes for high scores as they worked toward improvement. With little experience they had a good season winning most of their games.

New Projects Are Initiated

New calculators, electric typewriters, record players, and cassett learning stations are projects initiated by the Superintendent and School Board in an effort to upgrade the equipment. A new building with six classrooms has helped greatly to reduce over crowding in the entire school. Additional teachers were hired to help students who have fallen behind in critical areas and to prevent others from doing the same. This plan has also freed the elementary Principal to conduct her duties without teaching.

Dr. Harcrow works with the entire School Board. Secretary-Kenneth Southard, President-J.K. Melton, and Vice President-Jimmy Nicholson head the group.

Richard Saunders, Alva Lynn Smith, Betty Armstrong, and Don McGraw are the other members.

Leaders Carry Out Projects

Superintendent Dr. Claude Harcrow, a new addition to the staff, has aided the Board of Education in initiating and carrying out the new projects. "Every student should learn, grow, and feel like a real human being" is his philosophy. Virginia McGraw is his secretary.

Don Nimmo, High School Principal, arranges schedules to fit individual needs, counsels students with problems, and disciplines when necessary. Elementary Principal, Mrs. Alma Bridges, performs these same duties on the Elementary level.
